

Bioforsk has signed sub- contract with Indian Institute of Technology, Chennai

Bioforsk has entered into a sub-contract with the Department of Civil Engineering, IITM , in August 2010. This will enable the project team to expand their cooperation further on tasks related to the use of SWAT model, development of hydrological scenarios, capacity building and data base development within the Climarice 2 project. IITM expertise on these areas will strengthen the project outputs and the consortium. Bioforsk intends to expand its cooperation with IITM in the future in other areas as well.
